

CONTENTS

introduction | 003

a tale of three cities  detroit techno, chicago house, and new york garage, 1980–90 | 012

digital psychedelia  sampling and the soundscape | 040

living a dream  acid house and uk rave, 1987–89 | 056

everything starts with an e  ecstasy and rave music | 080

twenty-four-hour party people  “madchester,” positivity, and the rave ’n’ roll crossover, 1988–91 | 092

’ardkore, you know the score  the second wave of rave, 1990–92 | 112

america the rave  us rave culture, 1990–92 | 142

fight for your right to party  spiral tribe and the crusty-raver movement, 1991–97 | 162

feed your head  intelligent techno, ambient, and trance, 1990–94 | 180

slipping into darkness  the uk rave dream turns to nightmare, 1992–93 | 206

the future sound of detroit  underground resistance, +8, and carl craig, 1990–96 | 218

in our angelhood  rave as counterculture and spiritual revolution | 236

roots ’n’ future  jungle takes over london, 1993–94 | 250

in the mix  dj culture and remixology, 1993–97 | 270

marching into madness  gabba and happy hardcore, 1992–97 | 282

crashing the party  american rave’s descent into the darkside, 1993–97 | 298

sounds of paranoia  trip-hop, tricky, and pre-millennium tension, 1990–97 | 318

war in the jungle  intelligent drum and bass versus techstep, 1994–97 | 334

fuck dance, let’s art  the post-rave experimental fringe, 1994–97 | 358

outro: nineties house, speed garage, and big beat | 375

bibliography | 391

discography | 397

acknowledgments | 437

index | 439